Unique Ghostly Tales & How They Came to Be

Author: Emily Barton

Reviewed by: Paul Dale Roberts, HPI's Esoteric Detective – Halo Paranormal Investigations
Just finished reading the online edition of Unique Ghostly Tales & How They Came to Be by author Emily Barton. I was very impressed with her book, it was very well researched. A lot of the stories I was able to relate to, since I am a paranormal investigator that has traveled to 59 countries and territories. I have been to Tokyo, Japan and heard about the Whispering Walls of Kyoto, Japan. I heard stories about a curse on the walls and in this exceptional book, I get all the juicy details. I live right next to the Sierra Nevada Mountains and in this book, I get details of the various hauntings in these mountains. Emily dives into stories of the Gold Rush and the miners who covered these mountains to find their precious gold. The gold rush was very dangerous times, lots of deaths and now lots of hauntings. This book is filled with international stories, and I remember when I was stationed in Germany, I had to visit the haunted Black Forest. So many stories come out of this forest, and I found Emily's story about the Spectral Knights fascinating. In 1974, I visited the Paris Catacombs, and in this book, you get some chilling stories about the catacombs. This is a book that is truly hard to put down. You love water spirits? Well, dive into the story of the Ganges River in India.

Do you remember the story about the Vanishing Hitchhiker? Yep, that story is in this book and get some more chilling information about this incredible haunting. Emily outdoes herself with this informative book that will give you goosebumps, even when the lights are on in your home! Scary as all heck! The following three places mentioned in this article, are possible haunted locations with interesting back stories. These are the type of places that draws me in, where I crave to know more. Are the Dark Watchers at Mount Rubidoux? It sure seems like it. Are UFOs attracted to Area 101? Why have some men lost their heads at The Valley of the Headless Men? So many mysteries that I would love to have answers to. Let's step back and take a look at some of the stories that surround these three very strange areas.

MOUNT RUBIDOUX, RIVERSIDE, CA

In the past, I have written about the strange paranormal activity at Mount Diablo, San Bruno Mountain, the Sierra Nevada Mountains and other mountains throughout the world. I find it odd that so many mountains attract paranormal activity and Mount Rubidoux is no exception. One story after another is connected to Mount Rubidoux. Some people have reported seeing apparitions, ghostly figures, and even Jesus Christ at the top of the mountain. Yes, you heard that right. Jesus Christ has appeared on this mountain, so say the witnesses. Locals have reported hearing devilish voices in the hills and if that is so, then the appearance of Jesus Christ may just be a deceitful image created by devilish creatures that haunt this mountain. Miniature demons are seen and known to throw rocks at hikers. Mysterious rock formations are found on this mountain's hiking trails. Some hikers say they will walk by a spot, and everything is normal and come back to that spot a few minutes later and there is now a mysterious rock formation at the location. Was this done by a "rock moving poltergeist"? Some locals think the demonic elves that haunt this mountain hide out in the secret passages that lead to catacombs. Catacombs that date back to the Prohibition period. These catacombs and tunnels were for moving illegal liquor.

SOME HISTORY:

The mountain is named after Louis Rubidoux, who established Rancho Rubidoux in 1847. The summit has a large cross honoring Father Junípero Serra. The Evergreen Memorial Historic Cemetery is next door and is rumored to be haunted, people visiting the cemetery have seen shadow figures moving about. Shadow figures have also been seen on the mountain. One local even mentioned that he saw a demonic elf hiding behind a tombstone. Tall ghostly robed figures have been seen walking along the edge of the mountain. These figures have been described as eerily similar to the Dark Watchers that lurk in the mountains south of Monterey. They also bare some resemblance to the tales of equally tall-robed figures that reside on Mount Shasta and some people associate those tall figures as the last of the Lemurians.

There you have it. A place where small rocks and pebbles are thrown at hikers by some unseen force. The rock & pebble throwing is blamed on the demonic elves. The demonic elves are also known to provide sinister cackles to accompany your hike. Most terrifying though is that something, again perhaps the demon elves, stack rocks into strange pyramid rock piles after the hikers pass by. Hikers have turned around to see these pyramid piles formed behind them suddenly and mysteriously, their builders nowhere to be seen, and the speed with which it is done, would be impossible for mere mortals.

Besides ghosts, shadowy forces, strange tall-robed beings, and demonic elves, there are some more mundane weirdness on the mountain. The legendary Prohibition tunnels as mentioned above supposingly extend from the nearby Mission Inn all the way to Mount Rubidoux. Some locals say the tunnels also lead to a lost Chinatown. Some legends discuss an entire abandoned and buried downtown area from the late 1800s buried underground somewhere along these tunnels between Mount Rubidoux and the Mission Inn. Back at the Mission Inn, if these tunnels do exist, ghosts have been witnessed at the entrance, of course. The Mission Inn is also haunted, complete with a few haunted rooms for your stay. One of the inn's founders, Alice Miller, also haunts one of the rooms.

AREA 101

I have driven down Highway #1 and 101 many times and never knew about the so-called Area 101 near Laytonville, California. You can count this among the many strange sights travelers will encounter along northern California's Redwood Highway, they will see a billboard of a flying saucer firing beams into "Area 101." Behind the sign are a couple of buildings painted with lavish psychedelic murals, mixing UFO, mystic and religious symbols. Area 101 is not a tourist attraction, but the front end for a farm collective named Healing Harvest Farms, which grows and dispenses medicinal marijuana. It is also an occasional local concert and event venue. There are beautiful color murals on the outside of Area 101. During the 1970s, the site was a gas station, motel, repair business, and a roadside restaurant named the Czech Lodge (also operated as the Grapevine, and Terwilligers). Area 101 attracts people of the Wiccan culture, people with psychic abilities, mystical people, people who embrace the hippy culture. Tarot card reader Dawn of the Light said when she journeyed to Area 101, she saw 4 people chanting. One of the chanters said they were chanting for UFOs to appear in the sky. This may have actually started working as there have been reports of UFO/UAP activity in the night skies over Laytonville, CA. Multiple nights people of Laytonville have seen a circle shaped object fly from west to east in the northern sky, it is always after midnight. Another unique thing about Area 101 is that the chanting may have opened a doorway, a portal to another dimension as Shadow People have been seen wandering about in the area. Shadow People may be interdimensional type of entities that explore our reality and then they go back to their own reality.

THE VALLEY OF THE HEADLESS MEN

LOCATION:

The Nahanni National Park Reserve, sometimes known as "Headless Valley" or "Valley of The Headless Men" (after a series of unsolved historical deaths in the park), in the Dehcho Region of the Northwest Territories, Canada (approximately 311 miles west of Yellowknife.

The Valley of the Headless Men is a nickname for a remote valley in Nahanni National Park Reserve in northwest Canada. The valley is known for a history of mysterious deaths, including decapitated bodies, and is said to be haunted. The victims of the Valley of the Headless Men are: 1. In 1908, Charlie McLeod found the skeletons of his brothers Frank and Willie in the valley, with their heads severed. 2. In 1917, the decapitated skeleton of Yukon prospector Martin Jorgensen was found outside his burned cabin.

3. In 1945, the body of a minor from Ontario was found in a sleeping bag, with no head. Some theories were thrown out, that wild animals decapitated these victims. If this was true, where are the heads? Wild animals usually target the soft areas of a body. Wild animals eating a body, would most likely take things like the heart, liver, kidneys, intestines, etc. They would not take a hard cranium. It doesn't make sense why these victims would be missing their heads. Author Pierre Berton described the valley as having a "sinister atmosphere" and "weird, continual wailing of the wind". The Royal Mounted Police think the causes are not paranormal in nature, but attribute the deaths to less mystical causes, such as the greed and rivalry of the Gold Rush era. The brutal reality of isolation in the wilderness may also have contributed to the deaths. Explorer Jean Poirel discovered over 250 caverns in the valley, including one that contained the skeletons of 116 Dall sheep.

Numerous other reports from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police confirmed similar deaths, and a good number of people have simply vanished without a trace after setting foot in the park. Around the same time in the park's history, a series of unexplained plane crashes earned an expanse of mountains the name the Funeral Range, which borders the ominous Hell's Gate rapids. Later in the 19th century, UFO sightings and other strange lights were reported in the park, and to this day fringe bloggers obsessed with cryptids recount stories of Amphicyonidae—a predatory bear-dog hybrid that went extinct in the Pliocene period—prowling the valley, as well as signs of Bigfoot activity in forbidden parts of the park. Certain areas within Nahanni are closed to visitors because of their sensitive ecosystems or cultural significance for the indigenous Dene people. But some say the restrictions are as much about containing the park's supernatural forces as they are about keeping people out.

SUPERNATURAL HOME IN VALLEJO, CA

My aunt Consorcia P. Causing and my uncle Jose V. Causing lived at 1009 Taylor Avenue, Vallejo, CA. This house was haunted. At times when my uncle would play his drums in the living room, he would stop playing and you could hear drums in the far background. It would only last for a while. My uncle for a while was with a jazz band and some of the members of this band did not like practicing at my uncle's house, because they would feel a strange presence. The presence never bothered my uncle. My uncle had a beautiful gray Cadillac with white walls, his license plate read: Gung Fu, because my uncle was a Gung Fu Instructor and learned Gung Fu through Bruce Lee Gung Fu Studios. My uncle even went to Bruce Lee's funeral. Anyway, sometimes when my uncle drove his Cadillac, people would see a strange man on the passenger side of the vehicle, and they said it looked like Bruce Lee. The sightings would happen after the death of Bruce Lee. Jose had a small white dog named "Dammit" and Dammit would bark at things that weren't there, as if he was barking at a ghost. Consorcia claimed that there were at least 3 ghosts that lived at the house and the ghosts would watch over Consorcia and Jose. The jazz band felt the ghosts were a threat, but to Jose and Consorcia, the ghosts were no threat at all.

Haunted Saint-Tropez, France

Paul Dale Roberts, HPI's Esoteric Detective Halo Paranormal Investigations

Saint-Tropez is a charming port town in the Mediterranean known for its beaches, beauty, nightlife, and history. It's also a celebrity hub. Yes, many celebrities escape to this commune. There is another known fact that is sometimes only talked about in whispers. Saint-Tropez is known to be haunted. Tourists have mentioned seeing ghostly Barbary pirates outside of the Citadel of Saint-Tropez. Specters have been seen at a Victorian home and at a castle. Let's look at the Victorian home. The historic Victorian home that now houses Saint Tropez Bistro & Beyond in Oceanside was rumored to be haunted by the "Lady in Blue".

Workers on the property reported seeing the ghost of the home's original owner, Sarah Weitzel. Locals and tourists believe that Sarah Weitzel is the Lady in Blue. She is seen floating down the hallways or seen peering out of a window. One tourist saw a man praying at the Citadel of Saint-Tropez and when the man stood up, he looked at the tourist directly into his eyes. The tourist says he felt a calming warmth throughout his body. The man with the healing eyes then vanished in front of him. The tourist who does not want to be named, believes he encountered the Christian martyr Saint Torpes in which Saint-Tropez is named after. Saint Torpes was decapitated at Pisa during Nero's reign and placed on a decrepit boat with a dog and a rooster. The boat with the dead Saint arrived at Saint-Tropez. The tourist said that when the man vanished, he heard a dog bark and a rooster crow, making him a firm believer that he saw the Saint. This story was received from a tourist guide and on that tour was my step-mother Cindy.

As for the castle, the Château de la Messardière, a 19th century castle on the French Riviera, was rumored to be haunted. The Château de la Messardière is located in Saint-Tropez, France, on the French Riviera. The castle fell into disrepair and was abandoned by the family who lived in the castle, due to their financial difficulties. It's now a 5-star luxury hotel set in the hills above the Bay of Pampelonne. Tourists that have stayed at this hotel say that some people have complained of knocks on their door and when they open the door, no one is there. Chloe Bardin, a guest of the Chateau de la Messardiere says that when she was sitting in the lobby, she felt someone stroking her hair. The room that she was staying in, she turned in early, while her boyfriend was still at the bar. When Chloe went to lay in the bed, she felt someone next to her. She thought it was her boyfriend, but when she turned around, there was no one there. She was totally freaked out, got dressed and ran down to the bar to tell her boyfriend about her experience. On that night, they had their room switched to a non-haunted room.

PARANORMAL UPDATES:

The Ghosts of San Antonio's Train Tracks

When I was stationed at Fort Hood, Texas, I stopped by at the San Antonio's Train Tracks. I placed baby powder at the back end of my vehicle. Placed my car in neutral and waited for the ghostly children to move my car over the tracks. Well, it never happened. It's so strange that this story is found in many States. It seems like most of the stories are the same. The basic story is a train collides into a school bus that was stranded on the train tracks. All of the children die. Now the ghosts of the children will push your car over the train tracks if you place your vehicle into neutral and let it idle.

The Sacramento Mothman Loves the Tower Bridge

Paul Dale Roberts, HPI's Esoteric Detective Halo Paranormal Investigations

We all know the story about the Point Pleasant Mothman. Witnesses all over Point Pleasant were seeing this flying monster around the TNT area in 1966. Then on December 15, 1967, the Silver Bridge collapsed and 46 people lost their lives. When this happened, the people of Point Pleasant recognized the Point Pleasant Mothman as a Harbinger of Doom. Sightings of Mothman did not end at Point Pleasant. Then there was the Chernobyl Mothman that was seen flying around Chernobyl before the disaster that occurred on April 26, 1986. There were reports of a Mothman-type creature in Moscow, Russia in the 1990s, which Russian UFO experts claimed foreshadowed the 1999 Russian apartment bombings. Again, the Mothman becomes a Harbinger of Doom. In 2017 you have the Chicago Mothman flying around Chicago and Rockfield, Illinois in 2017. You are probably wondering if any type of disaster was happening in Chicago in 2017. Not really, but then there was the flooding of the rivers in northeast Illinois that occurred in July 2017 effecting the Des Plaines River and the Fox River.

There have been sightings of Mothman on the Tower Bridge in Sacramento, CA, the year 2009. Did any disaster happen? The answer is NO. I really do not believe that sightings of Mothman is a precursor to a disaster. There are disasters happening all the time, all around the world. What I theorize is that the TNT area at Point Pleasant opened up a portal, allowing the Mothman to escape into our reality. The leaking radiation at Chernobyl opened up a portal allowing another flying creature to escape into our reality. As for Sacramento, CA. The Sacramento River is a very strange river. There is a lot of paranormal activity that happens on this river and there is a possibility of a portal that exists along this river, allowing the Mothman to come through the portal and perch on the Tower Bridge. Below are witness reports of the Mothman being seen on or around the Tower Bridge. I place credit to the sites in which I obtained this information. Please read on.

COURTESY OF KQED

As all good cryptid nerds know, Mothman primarily enjoys hanging out in West Virginia. (Probably because 80% of the state is forested, and also because approximately 80% of people who don't live in West Virginia assume that everyone who does is crazy.) For decades there, witnesses have been describing a 7-foot-tall man with red eyes and wings, with a wingspan between 10 and 15 feet wide, who can fly at speeds too fast to catch on camera. Well, Mothman must have had himself a little Californian vacation in 2009, because a photographer named Lamont Greer claims to have seen the humanoid hanging around on top of Sacramento's Tower Bridge one night. Greer had been taking photos of the bridge at the time and was stunned by what he saw. "I had just finished filming the back side of the bridge, so I was bent down putting my camera back in my camera bag," Greer told The History Channel's MonsterQuest, "and I kind of felt something looking at me. When I first saw it,

I didn't know what it was ... but then my eyes kind of focused on it a bit better. It spread its wings and then started flying off. It wasn't a man, it wasn't a bird. It was absolutely strange and unique. If it wanted to come down and hurt someone, it absolutely could cause damage." The Sacramento sighting is not the only time Mothman has showed up in a city. In 2017, a bunch of people reported seeing him hanging around Chicago, including at the airport. A moth's gotta vacation, you guys. A moth's gotta vacation. Special Note: I interviewed Lamont Greer, and his statement was consistent and credible.

COURTESY OF REDDIT

While I was fishing in the Sacramento River in my home city last night, I was expecting to catch a trout or salmon. But instead, I discovered something terrifying. The large paddle-like structure broke through the water's surface to my right side, and when I saw it, it looked nothing like any animal I've seen before. It was a teal-colored, scaly, reptilian beast that was large, about the size of a large cow, but was swimming in a manner similar to a seal or sea lion. It had a robust body with four fins, large pair on the front area and smaller ones on the back area, instead of legs, and a short tail without any fins. Its skull was short yet massive, filled with blunt teeth that looked like it could crush bones, and had yellow reptilian eyes, which appeared to glow when I shined my flashlight at it. Upon seeing this creature, I was so terrified that I had to run away with my pet dog (who I took with during my fishing night), and I tried to call some people, but by the time we returned to where I sighted the creature, the creature was gone. It's a shame that I didn't took a photograph of this creature, since I forgot to bring the camera with me, as that would have proved that I saw that creature. If any people knows what creature that I've seen last night, please let me know in the comments below, it would be greatly appreciated.

PAUL'S COMMENTS:

This is an example of strange cryptids that are seen in the Sacramento River. In the past there have been reports of River Serpents and a good example of that, is that 2 SMUD workers saw a 30-foot river serpent in the Sacramento River that is located in the Greenhaven area. Giant salamanders have been seen by fisherman along the river embankments. Could there be a portal along the Sacramento River? It sure seems that way.

COURTESY OF BROAD STREET BEACON

Long and late hours are Dustin Kemp's usual routine, working ten-hour shifts at the Embassy Suites, where he also serves as the property's night auditor. "I like it because you get to do a little of everything in the hotel business. You do the front and the back of the house. I even do some housekeeping from time to time." Although Mr. Kemp is a top performer at his job, he had no desire to beef up his resume with "paranormal researcher." "Yeah, so the other morning, I was heading home. You know, across the Tower Bridge. It was still dark out, and the Bridge had that mix of dark and yellow from the streetlights. So, I had to stop for the Union Pacific to cross, which was right on time. And as soon as the last car passed, I saw it on the right side of the bridge." What Mr. Kemp saw was a shadowy, winged humanoid-like creature perched on the west-bound rail of the famous bridge. The Mothman is a creature first documented in the late 1960s and surrounded by the tragic collapse of the Silver Bridge in Point Pleasant, West Virginia. Since then, the Mothman has been spotted countless times in the United States. Some say it's a harbinger of terrible things. Others say it's an extraterrestrial life form with connections to aliens and perhaps the "Men in Black." Many think it has a more practical explanation: it's a hoax or a production of mass hysteria. "I just sat there at the railroad crossing. At first, I thought it was some Emo kid dressed in black doing her thing or something. I mean, this town has all kinds. But then it glanced over at me. Like, into my eyes from 50 yards away, and it scared the hell out of me." According to Dustin, after he gathered his thoughts, he decided to drive across the bridge.

"So I got my phone out and snapped a picture, but right after that, the creature disappeared. I thought for sure it jumped off the side of the bridge, but I didn't see it go over," continued Kemp. "But I called the police anyway, just in case." At the same time, Carlos Fuentes of Rancho Cordova, CA had finished up his closing shift at Joe's Crab Shack located just below the bridge when he also witnessed the creature. "I was just out back by the dumpster, dumping the grease when I heard this screeching sound from the bridge, you know? It was so loud. I didn't know how something could do that. So, I looked up, and there was La Lechuza. Her wings were out, and I was terrified, but I managed to get a picture before it disappeared. I don't know where it went, but I ran back inside and hid just like my mother told me to do when I was a child." The authorities arrived within four minutes, including a search and rescue boat below the bridge, according to Mr. Kemp, who was questioned for over 30 minutes by the police. "I just told them what I saw and showed them my picture," explained Kemp, recalling the incident. "At first, they thought I was on drugs or something, but after showing them the picture, they said I could go." Police search and rescue never found a body in the water, nor do they have any explanation of the dark creature nor its whereabouts.

COURTESY OF THE SACRAMENTO PRESS

December 15, 2009, Tuesday, Time: 20:06 Hours. My paranormal cellular hotline is ringing off the hook; the ringtone 'X-Files' is heard. I answer the phone and I hear a guy screaming in the background. His two buddies have me on the speaker phone and they are explaining to me that their friend witnessed a Mothman. I can tell by the yelling, screaming, loud talking that everyone must be intoxicated. Just a hunch. The callers call 8 times this Tuesday evening and they are screaming in my ear about their Mothman sighting. One of the guys claim that they saw Mothman first in South Florida and now it has followed them to Sacramento. They claim the Mothman swooped down from the Sacramento Tower Bridge and almost grabbed their screaming friend. They claim that their friend is hysterical and he is unable to speak to me. Their message is incoherent and some of their talk becomes abrasive and brash. I get fed up with the calls and hang up on them. They continue to call me and tell me to get out to the Tower Bridge. I finally shut down my cell phone completely; I will deal with them tomorrow, when all three will be sober (hopefully).

COURTESY OF WORD PRESS

Dora Sanchez read the story about Mothman being sighted at the Tower Bridge and also watched History Channel's Monsterquest in regard to the Sacramento Mothman. So, Dora had to check it out for herself and at 3am, Dora and her girlfriend walked across the Tower Bridge. They heard a very loud screeching sound and heard a very loud splash while crossing the bridge. Dora and her girlfriend did not see Mothman, but the sounds caused them to become scared.

3 HPI Paranormal Cases: Elverta, Elk Grove, West Sacramento Paul Dale Roberts, HPI's Esoteric Detective

Halo Paranormal Investigations

Case # 9B16C769K8706 Name of Client: Clyde. Location: Elverta, CA

With the paranormal hotline, calls come in during the day and sometimes late into the night. Two of these cases the calls came late into the night and the reason being is because the clients were being terrorized by the paranormal activity that was happening in their homes. The first case is in the town on Elverta. The client's name is Clyde. The case is confidential. Clyde says that a ghost is holding various doors in his house. Sometimes the entity will hold the front door, not allowing Clyde to walk outside. Other times, the entity will hold the bedroom door, not allowing Clyde to go into his bedroom. On Thursday night 2/20/2025 11pm, the entity held the front door, so Clyde could not enter his home. Clyde had to go through a window to get into the inside of his house. Clyde at this time had enough and decided to call the paranormal hotline around midnight. After hearing Clyde's story, I decided the next day I would drive over to Clyde's house to see what was going on. Clyde tells me that the paranormal activity started 3 months ago. Clyde lives in Elverta, very close to Dyer Lane. Clyde 3 months ago, was exploring Dyer Lane, because Dyer Lane is known to be haunted. Clyde feels he may have brought home a demonic entity from Dyer Lane. I did an EVP sweep of the house and one of the EVPs sounded like a low growl. I captured no anomalies in my photographs. I checked the door handles. The house is old, and I noticed that there looks to be some warping near the doorknobs. The bedroom door looked like it had some water damage. I wondered, could this be the problem, the water damage, the warping? I'm not a carpenter, but that would be my assessment. Clyde had me conduct my Roman Catholic house blessing. The next day Clyde contacted me and said my house blessing worked, and he is not being locked out. The doors are opening like they supposed to. Clyde asked me if I ever had a case like this and my answer is "no", but I heard of ghosts opening doors, such as with this case:

Message from: Ashtreesrus

SPECIAL NOTE: In Ashtreesrus Own Words.

"From 1999/2000 to 2008 my family lived in a house that was haunted. It was honestly just little things like the TV changing to the news at 5pm, and cupboards slamming closed, if you left them open. My dad actually met the niece of the woman who lived there before us, and she told him she had died there and that she religiously watched the news every night and loved kids. Both my parents were gone for work before I left for school, and hours after I got home, so I had a key to get in, however I had a habit of forgetting it and locking myself out. The first time it happened I tried to break in through the backdoor since it was old, and the lock was flimsy, but it also had a chain lock so I wasn't sure how I was going to get that undone. I was also about 12 and had no real idea of what I was doing. While I was trying to pop the lock, I heard the chain lock brush up against the door then the knob turned, and the door opened. I panicked thinking one of my parents had come home early and I was going to get yelled at for forgetting my key again, but no one else was there. So, any time I forgot my key after that I would go knock on the back door and she would let me in. Which honestly did not help me to learn to remember my key."

Entities Seem to Love Doors

Sometimes entities don't want you to go through a door, as for the case of the "cursed ancient door" in India that no one opens. It is the sealed door to "Vault B" within the Padmanabhaswamy Temple in Thiruvananthapuram, Kerala, where legend says opening it would bring disaster due to the immense treasure it holds and the maystical guardians believed to protect it; the door is often depicted with images of cobras, further fueling the curse myth. So, it seems you have entities that want to lock you out from your house, or open doors so you can enter your house, or guard doors to make sure you never enter through a certain door.

Case # 60U2369J0065 Name of Client: Nicole Location: Elk Grove, Ca

On Feb 25, 2025, I will be blessing a home in Elk Grove, CA. Nicole explains to me that the family feels a lot of negative energy in the house. The negative energy is causing the family to be on edge, that leads to conflicts and arguments. They do not want an investigation, they simply want a Roman Catholic house blessing. The previous owners of this home were always in heated arguments. The woman of the house was the Captain of the Neighborhood Watch and if you didn't attend her neighborhood watch meetings, she talked bad about you to her meeting group. She would also chastise neighbors who did not mow their lawns or trim their bushes. She was known to yell a lot at her husband. Domestic disputes in this house would be a common occurrence, so I can see why there is a lot of negative energy in this house and will be happy to conduct a blessing of this home.

Case #9Z1B6371J8948 Name of Client: Paulette

Location: West Sacramento, Ca

Date Call Came In: 2/24/2025. Time Call Came In: 1302 Hours. Paulette says she feels there is a portal in her home. Paulette and her significant other have seen shadow people walking throughout their house. The entities will mimic their voices. An entity went up through the bed. The activity started in 2021, when they received ashes of a dead relative. Some of the entities that have gone through the portal are a muscular ghost that looks like Bluto from Popeye. One of the ghosts will constantly ask Paulette if she is awake, when she is lying in her bed. One night she felt pressure on her leg that was caused by an entity. Full body apparitions have been seen roaming around the house. Paulette says that one of the entities looks like an old hag and she will float around the house. The entities will hide their belongings. Paulette had roommates in this house and the roommates all felt a presence in the house and eventually moved out because of the paranormal activity. Tapping on the wall is heard at certain times of the day. A ghost with a silvery body is seen walking around the house. A male ghost that wears a polo shirt walks around the house. Paulette says that the only thing that is comforting is that her deceased dog has been seen in the house, and she feels her deceased dog is trying to protect her. Paulette is asking that I conduct a small investigation to try and identify the problem in her home. She also wants me to conduct a Roman Catholic house blessing. March 1, 2025, Saturday at 3pm, I will be at Paulette's home to conduct an investigation and Roman Catholic house blessing. CASE PENDING. Location: 6B1H8 California Street, West Sacramento

Haunted Castle Bolton & the Town of Bolton, England

Paul Dale Roberts, HPI's Esoteric Detective Halo Paranormal Investigations

England has so much history. I took a tour bus in London and that bus stopped almost every 10 feet, because there was something historic that happened at the stop. When my brother-in-law Robert Mitchell went to England, he visited Castle Bolton and the town of Bolton. Now, just because they have the same name "Bolton", does not mean that they are in the same location. The Town of Bolton is in Greater Manchester, England, while Castle Bolton is in Wensleydale - North Yorkshire - Yorkshire Dales near the Village of Castle Bolton. The one thing that they have in common is that both "Bolton(s)" are very haunted. Let's talk about Castle Bolton first:

CASTLE BOLTON

The castle was built between 1378 and 1399 by Richard, 1st Baron Scrope of Bolton. In July 1379 construction of the castle began. The license and contract to build the castle was with the mason named John Lewyn. This occurred on September of 1378. Bolton Castle was described by Sir Francis Knollys as having 'The highest walls of any house he had seen'. The castle served as a prison during the English Civil War and held over 300 prisoners. To this day, locals and tourists have heard screams and moaning. Jasen Hartley of New Jersey heard a terrifying scream resonate outside of the castle and no one was there. In 1536 John, 8th Baron Scrope supported the Pilgrimage of Grace rebellion against the religious reforms of King Henry VIII and gave Adam Sedbar, Abbot of Jervaulx sanctuary in the castle. In consequence John Scrope had to flee to Skipton pursued by the King's men but Abbot Sedbar was caught and executed. In retribution the king ordered Bolton castle to be torched, causing extensive damage. Within a few years, some of the damage had been repaired and Sir John had regained his seat in Parliament. Robert Mitchell heard screaming and yelling coming from the castle. The screaming and yelling sounded faraway, but was in the direction of the castle. Robert says that the tour guide mentioned that a tourist once saw a flying shawl. As the tourist watched the movement of the shawl, it then simply vanished. It is believed that the shawl belonged to Mary, Queen of Scots. Mary, Queen of Scots was held prisoner at Bolton for six months. The story goes that she escaped and made her way towards Leyburn only to lose her 'shawl' on the way. The ghostly shawl that was seen is believed to belong to Mary, Queen of Scots.

TOWN OF BOLTON

Now let's leave Castle Bolton and head over to the Town of Bolton. They say that the town of Bolton is very haunted. Let's find out why. I found 6 haunted locations in the town of Bolton. Let's go!

HALL'I'TH WOOD

Hall'i'th Wood means Hall in the Woods. People see a white mist floating around. Disembodied footsteps are heard. Full body apparitions are seen. Betty the ghost will appear out of nowhere and yell at children. No one knows why Betty the Ghost does this, but apparently, she does not like children.

SMITHILLS HALL

The Notorious Pincher roams the hall pinching the behinds of young women. The Notorious Pincher enjoys pinching the behinds of all staff members. Staff members have smelled burning logs several times. Miss Snub with her nose in the air and wearing a period dress is sometimes seen by people. Miss Snub will walk around with her nose in the air and then just simply disappear. A little boy ghost with curly black hair that locals call Tommy will giggle and bounce a red ball against the wall. Tommy will sometimes appear with a little girl that some people call "Ragged Robin" because she will wear a "ragged robin" flower on her lapel. She is known to smile and then fade away.

YE OLDE MAN & SCYTHE

At this location, people have seen the ghost of the Earl of Derby. The Earl of Derby was actually beheaded in front of this establishment. The ghost of the Earl of Derby will appear without a head. The locals actually claim there are 20 ghosts in this building. They also believe there is a poltergeist, because glasses will fly off shelves. Silverware will be dropped to the floor. Door will slam shut on its own, or open on its own. The Falconer (ghost) is sometimes seen outside of the establishment. A man with period outfit on and a hawk on his right hand. The hawk will fly off and vanish, while the falconer will smile and also vanish.

WATERMILLOCK HOUSE

This house was once a WWI hospital. Mumbling voices and whimpering are sometimes heard. A staff person heard a man that sounded like he was in agonizing pain. The Victorian Lady (ghost) is sometimes seen on the upper floor. The Victorian Lady wears a Victorian type of formal dress.

THE OCTAGON THEATRE

Fida the ghost was a former wardrobe mistress. She is known to make her presence known by turning on all of the sewing machines. Locals says that Fida is a mischievous spirit.

TURTON TOWER

Locals sometimes deal with an angry woman ghost called the Mille Fleurs Lady. Locals say that they will smell floral scents that include roses, violets, lavender and sometimes orange blossom. When you get a whiff of those fragrances the Mille Fleurs Lady will appear, and she seems angry. A gentleman that was on tour confronted the Mille Fleurs Lady and she actually pushed him in the face! She does not tolerate bad behavior, especially from men.

HAUNTED MATTERHORN Paul Dale Roberts, HPI's Esoteric Detective Halo Paranormal Investigations

In 1975, I went with my Sergeant Major to Bologna, Italy, where his wife lived and had a restaurant. For 29 cents (don't ask me how much that is in Italian lira), I could get a bowl of spaghetti, a glass of wine and all of the bread that I can eat. At the hotel I was staying at in Bologna, Italy they had a restaurant on the first floor. I discovered that this restaurant had 29 variety of spaghetti(s). I tried to eat every type of spaghetti, but it was impossible, because I was only going to be in Bologna for 6 days. I saw so many things on my traveling adventure with the Sergeant Major. As we headed to Bologna, we made a stop at the base of the majestic, mysterious Matterhorn. The Matterhorn is located in the canton of Valais, in southwest Switzerland, above the village of Zermatt. It straddles the border between Switzerland and Italy. I marveled at this magnificent mountain. The first thought in my mind was...."is this mountain is haunted?" I learned that this mountain is very haunted. According to local legends and historical accounts, the Matterhorn in Switzerland is considered to be haunted, with many villagers believing it is inhabited by evil spirits or ghosts due to its treacherous nature and the numerous climbing fatalities it has claimed over the years; particularly the tragic first ascent where several climbers died during the descent, further fueling the belief of a "cursed" mountain. People in Zermatt, the town near the Matterhorn, historically believed the mountain was guarded by supernatural beings who would hurl rocks at climbers who attempted to reach the summit. The Matterhorn has a notorious history of climbing accidents, with many climbers losing their lives attempting to reach the peak, contributing to the perception of a haunted mountain.

On a per climber basis, the mountain is quite safe. But the Matterhorn is one of the world's deadliest peaks in terms of total fatalities, with more than 500 climbers perishing on the mountain since 1865— an average of 12 deaths per year. The causes of death are:

- 1. a combination of steep and exposed climbing sections,
- 2. sudden storms,
- 3. rockfall,
- 4. its popularity as overeager tourists without experience often try to climb it without a local guide,
- 5. many deaths occur on the descent, which is a hair-raising, three-and-a-half-hour highwire act along a sharp ridgeline and down through loose rock.

The Matterhorn has had more deaths than any other mountain in the Alps. Some climbers have made claim of seeing ghostly climbers. A few climbers have even mentioned that when they were in a tight spot, a ghostly climber would walk them through the climb, saving their lives. These surviving climbers believe that the mountain is cursed, but the mountain has ghostly climbers that look out for the living climbers. These helpful ghostly climbers are considered as angels by some villagers. One climber by the name of Luca Schindelholz, explained that when he was in a rough spot, a ghostly climber assisted him on the foothold and whispered in his ear, that everything will be okay. The climber followed the instructions of the ghostly climber and descended safely to the base of the mountain. While this Matterhorn is haunted, the Matterhorn in Disneyland is also haunted.

MATTERHORN IN DISNEYLAND

In 1984, Dolly Regena Young, a 48-year-old woman from California, died after falling out of her bobsled and being hit by another bobsled. The area where she was hit is now called "Dolly's Dip". Some Disneyland employees claim to have seen Dolly's ghost, felt a "supernatural presence", or heard whispers while working on the ride. Some say that the feeling of being watched is worst in the big cavern in the middle of the ride and at Dolly's Dip. Others say that the work lights in the tunnel near Dolly's Dip always seem to be burned out. Special Note: I have been on the Matterhorn in Disneyland 3 times and never felt anything I would consider as supernatural.

NEXT PICTURE: This is a show that was canceled. I wanted more! Perhaps the conclusion will be in the spin-off: Mark Millar's Super Crooks?

Military Intelligence and the Connection to UFOs/UAPs Paul Dale Roberts, HPI's Esoteric Detective Halo Paranormal Investigations

FORT JACKSON, SOUTH CAROLINA

My first UFO/UAP experience was in 1974, while I was stationed in Ft. Jackson, South Carolina, I was out with 2 other GIs in the town of Columbia. We happened to look up in the night sky and saw 6 glowing blue discs in a V shape formation. One of the soldiers said "geese?" I said... "that can't be geese, they're glowing blue!" As we watched, the discs at incredible speed took off in an erratic pattern and disappeared.

SACRAMENTO, CA

Now let's jump to a hot summer in July. The year is 1976. I was then living with a former girlfriend named Helen Lang. At the time I was sitting in my apartment, watching Dick Van Dyke's The Comic. The TV went static, and Helen was screaming at the top of her lungs. I asked her what happened. She claimed that a UFO was hovering above her at a distance of 200 feet. At first, I didn't believe her, but she was hysterical and crying. I drove her to the Sacramento Sheriff's Office. The sheriff gave her an 800 number to call. It was the Center for UFO Studies, founded by Dr. J. Allen Hynek. Helen made her report. Shortly after this UFO sighting, Helen and I broke off our relationship. One day, I happened to pick up the Sacramento Bee and discovered that Helen is mentioned in the UFO article about the sighting that had occurred in that month of July. What was surprising is that 2 other people in Sacramento, in two other locations saw the same UFO! This validated Helen's story. J. Allen Hynek, formerly of Air Force's Project Bluebook called me and asked to speak to Helen. I told Dr. J. Allen Hynek that I was unable to locate Helen, because we broke up. He asked what I was doing when the UFO was hovering over Helen. I told Dr. Hynek I was watching TV. He asked what happened during the time of the sighting. I said, the TV went static. He told me that is what occurs when a UFO is present. Radio and TVs will go static, a car engine will stall. He asked if I saw the UFO, I told him 'no'. I told him that Helen drew a picture of the UFO, and I sent the drawing to Dr. Hynek.

After these two occurrences happened to me, I became very curious about UFOs. I started reading about the various type of aliens that have been seen on our planet. I learned about UFO hotspots. I was in the Army from 1973 to 1976 as an M.P. (Military Policeman) working undercover with D.S.T. (Drug Suppression Team) for C.I.D. (Criminal Investigation Division) in Germany. I was working undercover narcotics. The Military Intelligence barracks was always located near the MP barracks. I remember seeing Military Intelligence guys in suits going here and there carrying briefcases. That image never left my mind. I always wanted to know what Military Intelligence was involved in. I also thought, if any organization has the answer to the UFO/UAP phenomena, it would be Military Intelligence.

JOINING MILITARY INTELLIGENCE

Finally in 1979, I went and watched a James Bond movie. It made me think about the US Army's Military Intelligence and before I knew it, I was talking to an Army Recruiter and signing on the dotted line. I was going to Military Intelligence School in Ft. Huachuca, Arizona.

I became a 97 Bravo, Intelligence Analyst and found myself stationed at PIC-K (Photo Interpretation Center in Korea) - 501st Military Intelligence Battalion. My job was to work with Image Interpreters that worked with hot rolls from reconnaissance aircraft and satellites. On these hot rolls were pictures of North Korea and Red China. A lot of times, we wore suits, or we wore Class A uniforms with no insignia to identify us as 'spooks', Military Intelligence. We would drive black sedans, with tinted windows and no identifying plates. We would have a sign on the dashboard, that this vehicle was not to be stopped for any reason. People who didn't know who we were, may have thought we were the Men in Black. The Korean police were notified of our midnight hot runs. We would make hot runs from Yongson Barracks in Seoul to Osan AFB to pick up hot rolls. I would have one half of the combination, and my partner would have the other half of the combination to open up the trunk of the car and a suitcase inside the trunk of the car, in which the hot rolls would go into. My clearance was Top Secret S.B.I. (Special Background Investigation). My code name was: Hollywood. I dressed the part, black suit, tie, white shirt, sunglasses, short-cropped hair. Far from my days as a narc, wearing a trench coat, beard, long hair, sunglasses. My days as a narc with CID, my code name was Porkchops. So here I was, I transformed from Porkchops to a new persona...Hollywood, a spook that worked with other spooks. I also worked with elite troops, such as Marine Recon, Delta Force, Special Forces, Air Force Special Ops, Naval Intelligence, Air Force Intelligence in a combined effort to thwart the enemy and protect our sacred soil, known as the US of A!

OPERATION TANGO

While in Military Intelligence, I was involved with Operation Tango. They shipped a bus load of Military Intelligence soldiers on a bus with blacked out windows. They took us to an underground complex inside a mountain. The mountain caverns were a top-secret listening post. We would monitor radio transmissions coming from North Korea and Red China.

ANGEL STOPS

A lot of Military Intelligence soldiers are nerds, they either read comic books, or they read books on UFOs! When Military Intelligence soldiers take breaks or take their lunch period, they are usually reading something. A South Korean ROK Major that I was friends with, he would show me various martial arts moves from Taekwondo to Hapkido. He was also very interested in the UFO phenomena, and we would have long lunch period discussions about UFOs. He told me that he was once involved in a top-secret project, and discovered that the military at one time was working with an extraterrestrial race of beings. Our military was allowing the extraterrestrials to make "angel stops" which meant the aliens were able to abduct humans for experimentation. In turn we would acquire alien technology for allowing the aliens to abduct humans. The extraterrestrials started going over their quota in abductions and the truce/agreement between aliens and humans ended. The extraterrestrials stopped giving us alien technology, but the abductions continued and there was nothing we could do about it.

VISITING THE DMZ

The Military Intelligence soldiers from the 501st Military Intelligence Battalion went to the DMZ (38th Parallel North - Korean Demilitarized Zone). We could not wear our insignias on our Class A uniform, because we could be captured by the North Korean soldiers for being Military Intelligence. We walked around the conference table and when we did that, we were setting foot in North Korea. Our Captain told us not to touch the North Korean side of the table. While I was changing my film roll, I accidently placed my camera down on the North Korean side of the table. My Captain yelled at me to pick up my camera. He later chewed me out for doing that and said I could have caused an international incident. The Captain was mad at me for a good week.

6 UFO PHOTOS

During my days at PIC-K, I came across 6 shocking aerial photos taken from satellites or our reconnaissance aircraft. They were 6 photos of UFOs. In 1981, UFOs were still UFOs. The term UAP did not exist yet. The photos I was looking at, were considered as UFO photos. Behind each photo the words "intelligent movement" was typed on small white sticker paper. They were considered as intelligently controlled because of their movements and behavior. I now knew that it was a falsehood when the Air Force disclosed that they were no longer investigating UFOs. Here I was holding and categorizing 6 UFO photographs. The photographs went to the DIA (Defense Intelligence Agency) and then to the CIA (Central Intelligence Agency) and from there they disappeared into a black void. The 6 photos that I saw were the following: disc shape; cube shape; triangle; boomerang; globe shape and something that looked like possible ball lightning.

TEACHING THE SOVIET THREAT

There was one more photograph that I thought was odd. It wasn't a picture of a UFO, it was a picture taken in Vietnam, the year was 1981. It was classified as a possible American POW. Later there were reports from US Army's Special Forces that American POWs were still being incarcerated in Vietnam. When I saw this photo, I was irritated that our government wasn't doing anything about these forgotten POWs. Maybe, I talked too much and before I knew it, I was shipped off to Ft. Knox, Kentucky and received an H Identifier, which means I became an Army Instructor. I taught the Soviet Threat to elite troops like the 101st Airborne - Screaming Eagles, 82nd Airborne, US Army's Airborne Rangers, Marine Recon, Delta Force, Navy Seals. I taught them how to use Soviet weapons like the AK-47, AKMS (modified version of the AK-47, SVD Sniper Rifle, RPG 7 and 2. I taught them the W.E.F.T. (Wings, Engine, Fuselage and Tail Section) of Soviet Aircraft, the kill zones of Soviet Aircraft, Tanks and Amphibian Assault Vehicles. One part of my gig was to wear a green ski mask, Soviet uniform, black gloves, combat boots. I had a fake Russian accent. I called myself Corporal Dowbowski. I was supposed to be a Soviet defector. I taught Soviet calisthenics.

That was my days with Military Intelligence. Now to the important question. Does the military know something about UFOs? Answer: Of course they do.

Haunted Flatiron Building
Paul Dale Roberts, HPI's Esoteric Detective
Halo Paranormal Investigations

In 1969, my brother Andy was living in Newark, New Jersey and every morning he would commute 33 minutes to the Flatiron Building. One of Andy's occupations was in construction and Andy was involved with renovating some areas of the Flatiron Building. I asked Andy if this building was haunted. His answer was..."yes, the Flatiron Building in New York City is known for its ghost stories. Many people have seen full body apparitions roaming the hallways". Andy worked with two other construction guys named Harry and Luis. Harry and Luis claim that they saw a middle-aged woman in a long dress floating down the hallway. As they watched her, she turned to her right and walked right into a wall. Harry and Luis knew that they had seen a ghost. Andy said that the only experience he had, that he can call supernatural is when he was working on a door and something yanked out his screwdriver from his work belt and threw the screwdriver on the floor. Andy believes that a ghost did this. Let's find out some history of this historic building.

ACCORDING TO WIKIPEDIA:

The Flatiron Building, originally the Fuller Building, is a 22-story, 285-foot-tall (86.9 m) steel-framed triangular building at 175 Fifth Avenue in the Flatiron District neighborhood of Manhattan in New York City. Designed by Daniel Burnham and Frederick P. Dinkelberg, and sometimes called, in its early days, "Burnham's Folly", it was opened in 1902. The building sits on a triangular block formed by Fifth Avenue, Broadway, and East 22nd Street—where the building's 87-foot (27 m) back end is located—with East 23rd Street grazing the triangle's northern (uptown) peak. The name "Flatiron" derives from its triangular shape, which recalls that of a cast-iron clothes iron.

Here's a more detailed look at the Flatiron Building's haunted history:

Like many historic buildings, the Flatiron Building has a reputation for being haunted. Apparitions have also been seen in its narrow hallways and old-fashioned elevators. Some instances include a shadowy figure jumping off one of the balconies onto the sidewalk below. The building has a grim history with many people having died during its construction and also because many people have decided to end their lives in this iconic building. Some people say they see apparitions, ghosts, or specters appearing on the 86th deck and in the restrooms. In 2011, General Manager Rosanne Martino mentioned that the establishment was most definitely haunted, as she herself had had "inexplicable experiences". On the 9th Floor people have claimed to hear the musical sounds of a harmonica. A guest named Thomas Leon was on the 9th floor and heard the sounds of a harmonica. To his surprise he encountered the "Harmonica Lady" blowing into her harmonica. She had reddish hair and wearing what looked like overalls. Thomas thinking she was a real person told her that she played the harmonica well. She looked up at Thomas, smiled and then faded away. This reminds me of when my sister Sharon visited the Castel Boccale in Italy and heard stories of the "Lady of the Lyre". People would hear musical notes from a Lyre. Some people saw a delicate looking woman playing a lyre and she would also smile and fade away.

The Flatiron Building is quite famous. It has appeared in many movies and TV shows. In 1987, the building was used as the scene of a murder for the TV series Murder, She Wrote, in the episode "No Accounting for Murder". In the 1998 film Godzilla, it is accidentally destroyed by the US Army while in pursuit of Godzilla. It is depicted as the headquarters of the Daily Bugle, for which Peter Parker is a freelance photographer, in Sam Raimi's Spider-Man trilogy, and once again in The Spectacular Spider-Man animated series. It is shown in the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles TV series. In the 2006–2012 comic book series The Boys as well as the 2022 third season and 2024 fourth season of its television adaptation, it is depicted as the headquarters of the titular CIA black ops group. Many moviegoers believe that John Wick was filmed at the Flatiron Building. The answer to that is No. The Flatiron Building was not used in John Wick, but the Beaver Building at 1 Wall Street Court was. The Beaver Building was used to film the exterior of the Continental Hotel in the movie and TV series The Continental. The Beaver Building and The Flatiron Building look very similar. What is interesting is that the Beaver Building is also haunted. A bearded man in a suit is sometimes seen on the 6th floor peering into various rooms and when he gets to one particular room, he fades away. Some office workers in The Beaver Building call him the "Suit Guy".

Special Note: In the Flatiron Building story, I mention my brother Andy. His full name is Andrew Somprise Soyo. He is my half-brother. I also mention my sister Sharon. Her full name is Sharon Diane Kruger. I thank them both for providing me with the needed information for this article.

INITIAL REPORT:

Date to be there: May 23, 2015, Saturday / Time to be there: 4pm / Santa Cruz UFO Hunt - Address: Santa Cruz, CA - / Activity: All shapes and sizes of UFOs are being seen over the Monterey Bay. Monterey Bay is rumored to contain a UFO underwater base. During special times, these UFOs are seen coming out of the bay. Another call came from another Santa Cruz resident: 831 676-4801

A song that reminds me of this investigation is Phantogram - Fall in Love. A song we heard after the investigation.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RsQjC5zVnt8

Deanna and I prepared for this 2.5 hour drive to Santa Cruz, we were contacted by a man with the code name: Bay Walker. (Bay Walker) does not want his real name revealed. Bay Walker tells us that he has seen a variety of UFOs in and around the Monterey Bay. Bay Walker keeps a journal of his sightings and even draws pictures of the UFOs that he sees. While in Santa Cruz, we received information not only about the UFOs that are seen, but we also received information about the complex that is Lockheed Martin. The Lockheed Martin information was not provided by Bay Walker. This place is highly secured and it seems that there is a tunnel boring device at this complex. I don't know if this has anything to do with UFOs. Another interesting factor that Deanna points out is that Santa Cruz has the Mystery Spot - a possible Leyline center point and Pacheco Pass, which is rumored to have interdimensional qualities, as you can go from this reality into another reality.

HISTORY OF PACHECO PASS - COURTESY WEIRD FRESNO WEBSITE:

"There are stories of supposed Indian massacres by the Spanish settlers in the 1700's. And from 1860 to 1880 the pass was known as Robber's Pass due to two highwaymen that robbed, raped and murdered travelers along the route. And now in modern times it's known as Blood Alley due to the numerous traffic accidents that occur along it's route. Not all these accidents are fatal, but some are. And apparently some of the victims haven't moved on.

Blood Alley seems to have several spirits on it's stretch of road. On the old Bolsa Road there's a story of a headless figure wandering aimless off the side of the road. It's said the ghost is that of a man who was in a car accident and was decapitated and now he is searching for his missing head. Another story is as you are driving towards San Juan Bautista, right after you pass the mission you drive through a small grove of trees and on your left you will see an outcropping of rocks. Sometimes late at night it's said the ghostly specter of a woman can be seen there. Apparently her fiance was killed in an accident on this stretch of road, and despondent, she put on her wedding dress and went to the scene of the accident and climbed the rocks and jumped to her death. Unfortunately for whatever reason she did not join her beloved in the afterlife and she wanders the road looking for him to this day.

Other miscellaneous sightings include a woman searching for her child, but when you approach her for help she disappears. Witnesses have also claimed to hear the sound of a stage coach and the sound of horses but never see the source of the sounds.

There have also been reports by numerous witnesses of seeing a man in a black robe standing on the side of the highway usually between Casa De Fruta and Bell's Station. Written reports of seeing the figure go back at least several decades and the figure was always seen late at night or early in the morning before sunrise. It's theorized that the figure could be that of a Franciscan Monk given the type of garb the witnesses describe seeing him in."

MYSTERY SPOT - LEYLINE?

According to Wikipedia: "The Mystery Spot is a gravity hill, a tilt-induced visual illusion. The illusion experienced by visitors results from the oddly tilted environment as well as standing on a tilted floor. Inside the tilted room of the Mystery Spot, misperceptions of the height and orientation of objects occur.

Even when people are standing outside on a level ground, the slant of the building in the background causes misperceptions as humans judge the height of people using the slant of the roof rather than the true horizon." Word from Paul: It may be all an illusion, but it's odd how the trees grow in a tilted angle. It's also odd that some people will feel vertigo, nauseated or dizzy when entering the Mystery Spot. The Native American Indians thought of this place as a sacred site. Some investigators of the paranormal feel its a leyline. Deanna and I, have both been to the Mystery Spot and we both feel it has mystical properties. UFOs are know to visit and travel near and around leylines and the sacred sites that are near leylines.

Deanna, being a sensitive had some unique experiences on the travel back from Santa Cruz. I believe her third eye was open and she saw a man with black hair, bright blue t-shirt on, alongside the road...she realized she was seeing a ghost. Near the sighting was a wreath, indicating that there was a fatal car accident at the location where she saw the male ghost. Another thing that she saw on this night was a phantom black panther with glowing yellow eyes, it seemed to follow her and somehow she startled this creature and it vanished.

THE UFO HUNT OVER MONTEREY BAY:

With Bay Watcher and Deanna, we had our night goggles and binoculars ready. Bay Watcher showed us a yellow type of globe off in the horizon. It was stationary and Deanna suggested we may be looking at a light beacon on top of a tower. The sighting is inconclusive. We thank Bay Watcher for taking us to Starbucks in Santa Cruz and treating us to green tea and a grande mocha frappachino. 5/24/2015: Today Deanna and I sat with Hi-Pee and Princess Hannah at John L. Zehnder Park in Elk Grove and discussed the investigative events of yesterday. Of course the dogs had an excellent walk!

Paranormal Cellular Hotline: For Investigation or Advice: 916 203 7503

The Cat-Like Rakshasas of Dhubri, India By Paul Dale Roberts, HPI Demonologist www.hpiparanormal.net

Paranormal Cellular Hotline rings. Ringtone: Somebody's Watching Me by Rockwell.

November 21, 2011 Time: 0100 Hours

Paul: Hello?

Ankal: Hello, is this the paranormal hotline?

Paul: Yes, how can I help you?

Ankal: (Strong accent). I am Ankal, you must help me, I have a demon on me.

Paul: Have you seen this demon?

Ankal: Yes, demon have animal face, like a cat.

Paul: Are you talking about a Rakshasas? Usually they have animal features. One of the Rakshasas, Indian people have seen was the Elephant Faced Demon that inhabited the forest of Lanka, it had a pot belly, elephant head, protruding teeth, horns, long tongue, red eyes and red hair. This creature was able to shapeshift into a bird and fly away, when strangers came to close. Are you talking about this creature?

Ankal: No. I know Rakshasas, this one different, cat face, maybe black panther face, scary cat face. Paul: You are breaking up, where are you calling from, I noticed your number sequence is long, are you calling me from overseas?

Ankal: Yes, I am calling you from Dhubri, India.

Paul: The only time I talk to people in India, is when my computer needs to be fixed (laughing).

Ankal: (Laughing), my brother used to do that, good on computers.

Paul: Then I may have talked to him. Okay, what is your problem?

Ankal: I see this demon, my wife have miscarriage.

Paul: Well, according to Rakshasas lore, the Rakshasas aka the Night Wanderers are dangerous around pregnant women and can cause a miscarriage. I am sorry to hear this. The Rakshasas are a species of Asuras of the Hindu demon category. They can enter into a person's mouth and cause a lot of harm. Ankal: My friend tell me, that they can be invisible and the one that I saw in a tree vanished in front of my eyes. I have friend, that died, he was haunted by Rakshasas and I think his Rakshasas attached to me and now I am tormented.

Paul: Rakshasas are very dangerous and they are associated with the King of Rakshasas, the Ravana, that has 10 heads, twenty arms with burning red eyes. Can you give me about an hour and I will go over my demonology notes and give you an answer on how to ward off this evil spirit.

Ankal: Yes, I will call you in one hour.

Telephone rings. 1 hour passes.

Ankal: This is Ankal, you find help for me?

Paul: Do you have a Swami that you can consult, that can pray with you?

Ankal: Yes, my wife's sister has Swami I can talk to.

Paul: Can you do that Ankal, your case is quite different from my other demonic type of cases. Are you Hindu?

Ankal: Yes, Hindu. I know you should pray to the Maha Deva to ward off any Rakshasas, he is your protector against these entities. Can you do this Ankal and let me know what the Swami tells you?

Ankal: Yes, I will do this, I will see Swami soon.

Paul: Thank you Ankal, let's keep in touch, may Maha Deva watch over you.

UPCOMING INTERVIEW: CHUCK WADE - HIS WIFE'S EMAIL TO ME:

Hello, Paul--

Here is Chuck's video of the talk given by him and Gerald Anderson at the Gallup UFO Film Festival a month ago:

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RE2Ex7af8Wk&feature=youtube_gdata_player

Please note Chuck's correct e-mail address: wade_eftv@yahoo.com. He will be happy to answer your questions, but it may take a few days. He will also be happy to send samples of the metal artifacts from the crash site on the Plains of San Agustin, New Mexico, to any lab that will analyze them--as long as he can have a copy of the results to post on his website. He's especially interested in having isotopic ratio analysis done.

For clarification--the Plains of San Agustin is about 200 miles west of the Corona crash site. Nancy Wade

Suicide Bridge By Paul Dale Roberts, HPI General Manager and Karen Stanley, HPI Paranormal Investigator www.hpiparanormal.net

A fitting song for this article is The End by the Doors, hear it here:

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=GGXeXm0uMDo

This coming spring, I want to bring a team of investigators to Foresthill Bridge aka Suicide Bridge. Some people have compared Foresthill Bridge as a mini-version of the Aokigahara Forest (Japan's Suicide Forest).

To see a video of the Aokigahara Forest, stop by here: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=6CK1KdAha78

I interviewed two people from my Facebook readers, here is what they had to say:

"Hi my name is David, please do not use my last name for this article. Hey. thanks for adding me as a friend. I used to belong to the now defunct Colfax Paranormal Commando Center. We did an investigation at Foresthill Bridge. We obtained 7 EVPs and we saw 2 full body apparitions. That place is very creepy late at night. One of the investigators was sitting on a log and then all of a sudden he received a 3 inch scratch on the back of his neck, he started screaming. That pretty much ended the investigation. Good luck investigating this area. You will find a lot of activity."

"My name is John Hector from San Bruno. A couple of my friends were planning to do a sneak bungee jump from this bridge. Actually we did manage to do one jump and the police came. My friends and I saw a flying orb and it darted all around us and then flew into the sky. It was the weirdest damn thing I ever saw. 6 of us saw this flying orb!"

So from the statements above, I believe we are going to find all kinds of activity at Suicide Bridge. I placed one of my HPI Paranormal Investigators (Karen Stanley) on the case and this is what she found:

Hi Paul.

Not sure if you want these, but here is the link anyway.

https://s1211.photobucket.com/albums/cc421/stanleykd/Foresthill%20Bridge/

Here is the information so far on the Foresthill Bridge, pictures can be found here:

https://s1211.photobucket.com/albums/cc421/stanleykd/Foresthill%20Bridge/

The bridge is 730 feet high and spans 2,428 feet long. The piers are only 16 feet shorter than those of the Golden Gate Bridge. It is the highest bridge in CA and the 4th highest in the U.S. The bridge was constructed as a replacement for the (previously) existing Auburn-Foresthill Bridge. The bridge opened for public use on Labor Day 1973.

It was built to span Auburn Lake, the reservoir that would have backed up into the North and Middle Fork canyons of the American River behind the Auburn Dam, if it had ever been built.

It was used in the movies "XXX" with Vin Diesel and "The Ugly Truth".

The "unofficial" suicide count is currently at 62.

Deaths include:

July 2007: Thomas Moore, 53, is believed to be the first to hang himself from the bridge.

October 2005: Bryon, 45, and Sallee Kincannon, 43, were believed to be the first couple to jump from the bridge. They also took their pet dog with them.

The most recent were Steven Alexander 51 of Auburn - October 7,2011, Mark Hinkle 42 of Auburn - Sept 6, 2011 and Dustin Granville 31 of Chico – Sept 5, 2011-11-06

It seems just about everyone in Auburn knows someone who has committed suicide by jumping off the bridge. I personally know a Physical Therapist I used to work with that had severe depression and committed suicide at the bridge. I have been unable, as of yet, to find anyone who has heard the bridge is haunted or heard any stories of hauntings.

In the past the bridge has been a favorite "party spot" for the teenage crowd. The bridge is pretty well patrolled by law enforcement now, so I don't think it is as much of a teenage hangout as it was once was.

There is currently construction on the bridge. Improvements will include:

Seismic retrofit of the bridge
Painting
Miscellaneous work:
Replace the bridge rail
Striping lanes and sealing of the concrete deck
Construct new catwalk system for bridge maintenance Logistics:

If we plan an investigation or a scouting mission, here is a great place to meet at first:

Starbucks:

Auburn Town Center 392 Elm Avenue Auburn, CA 956034525 (530) 823-1528

Then to get to Suicide Bridge from Starbucks. Directions below:

From Starbucks:

Merge Right on Hwy 49.

Go to the bottom of the canyon toward Foresthill

Parking will be on the left and right (across the bridge) – not the Foresthill bridge, the bridge that gets you across the river.

Total mileage from Starbucks: 3 miles

Bathrooms are available at the beginning of the trails.

This is part of the Auburn Recreation District. There are signs posted with park hours 8:00am – 6:00pm There are two trails to get under the bridge, which put you on either side of the river.

I'm not sure of the exact distance to get under the bridge but it is an easy walk and less than ½ mile, probably closer to a ¼ mile.

Please let me know if this is the information you were looking for and if not, how I can improve. Let me know if you need anything else.

Thanks,

Karen D. Stanley

Hi Paul, I spoke to the family today and while I was on the phone with the grandmother, a male voice said something I couldn't understand and then a loud deep breath. Both of us heard it. I became confused and disoriented when I first called..felt like a psychic attack. I pushed through it and it backed off. Tonight, they are seeing alot of shadow figures in the house. I only know them as Natalie's mom and dad..super sweet people. 530-xxxxxx is there home, cell is 530-xxxxxx. They are looking forward to you coming to investigate and hopefully removing whatever is there. The grandparents lost one son to murder and a daughter to brief illness within the past 3 years. They certainly need some peace. Blessing to you for helping them, let me know if there is anything else I can do to help, Sharon Pugh aka Medium Sharon

Burning Down the House! Catlike Demon of Vacaville
By Paul Dale Roberts, Supernatural Sleuth, Ghostly Gumshoe and the Stalker of the Paranormal
www.hpiparanormal.net

Tonight since we will be dealing with a demonic force. All varieties of cleansings will take place. Cleansings: Native American cleansing, Wiccan/Earthly cleansing, metaphysical cleansing and a Catholic Blessing. When a multitude of cleansings take place, it is referred to as: "Burning Down the House". So it would seem appropriate that the theme of this article is: Burning Down the House by Talking Heads, hear the song here:

Saturday, May 8, 2010. Time: 2100 Hours. Location: Vacaville. Case: Demonic. Let me go over my notes. The clients have been experiencing a demonic presence in their home. The entity is all black and walks on all fours. When the entity stands up, it is 7 to 8 feet tall. HPI Researcher Laurie Rutledge of London says to be coy and ask the occupants if the number 3 means anything. When asking the occupant she tells me that everything happens in threes. Three knocks, three chokes (the female occupant has been chocked by this entity) and the entity usually appears at 0333 Hours. The entity may have come into their lives, when their teenage daughter was dating a boy that was practicing the dark arts and messing around with tarot cards. The demon will follow them from their home to a hotel room; it has even been seen in their vehicle. The occupants feel nauseated all the time and will get sick for no reason at all. The couple is a loving couple with children and lately their closeness has diminished. There is even talk of separation. They feel the entity is causing the friction, the negativity in their marriage. The occupants have been so scared; they have been living in motel rooms, until we arrive.

Tonight, we will arrive. We will plan a strategic plan of action. We will discover an avenue of approach on this entity. We will prepare for battle if necessary. Sometimes we are warriors and the warrior mode is set in motion...

For an investigation like this, I need a lot of energy. I am equipped with my Monster M-80 that I will chase down with a Monster Assault.

The occupants gave a briefing of the incidents that have happened in this home. Arianna Wheeler (occupant) in her own words describes the haunting activities in her home. Read below:

"Hello, my name is Arianna Wheeler. My husband Chuck and I live in Vacaville. The first experience happened upstairs in our daughter Rachel's room. Items moved unexplainably around the room and the lights would flicker and her television would turn off at random. Sadly we did not believe her and assumed she was imagining it. She moved out as soon as she could, claiming that the house was haunted. In her sister's room across the hall we found tarot cards and a book on how to use them. We threw them out knowing that they can enable paranormal activity. She recently has moved out as well, claiming the house is too "spooky". In the last two months there has been a lot of activity. I was the first to see a tall and dark figure in the hall way of our bedroom.

It looked like it had animalistic feet, sort of like hooves and something pointy towards the top of its head. I could not make out the face or any details, but I could make out that there were two glossy, black and round eyes like things looking at me as I lay in bed. It was around 3 am and I was all alone except for my 6 month baby in her crib. Prior to seeing it, I felt like I was being choked, it wasn't like physical hands around my neck, but more of a lack of air to my lungs. I jumped up and turned off all the electronics thinking that something might be pulling "energy" from them. I resumed my spot in bed and felt the same sensation of not being able to breath. I thought to myself "no, no, no" and started praying for God to surround me with the light of the Holy Spirit and it stopped. I hid under the covers and became very frightened. We've heard a lot of growling noises and we don't have any animals.

For the third time I couldn't breath and started sweating profusely. I was sweating like I was in a sauna, just dripping of sweat. I pulled out from under the covers and looked towards the entrance to the hallway which is when I saw the black figure. I made myself fall asleep due to being extremely scared. My husband Charles didn't exactly believe me, kind of like how we didn't believe our daughter. Our two year old Kayla was attacked physically twice in the last couple of weeks. First she was shoved and held against the wall in the hallway of our bedroom in the same place I saw it. When we picked her up we found horrifying red marks around her neck. The second time that she was attacked was in the threshold of the hallway; she was in her highchair and started screaming at the top of her lungs.

When we got to her she was holding the back of her neck. When we looked there were three huge scratch marks that looked deep and red. We were scared for her well being and took her to relatives as soon as possible. Next my husband was choked three times in the same place in the bed that I was and he couldn't breathe. Soon we fled the house since we are afraid for our children's well being. The times we had to return to the house my husband has been harassed with random sightings of the entity in different forms. Sometimes it is animalistic, like a cat and other times just a black blur, kind of like what I saw in the beginning. This negative energy has drained us and I believe our fear has given it more power. It now follows us when we leave the house and I feel like I'm going insane. We have found a bag of pictures of us and objects that represent each of our children. In this bag we also found red, green and black candles used for conducting a seance. There was a journal in the room that she wrote, which said: "people will get what they deserve and that justice will be served". It also stated that she doesn't believe in a God who would put people in so much pain. Sadly I feel she has tried to put a "curse" on us, it was her payback since she feels that she deserved more in life. At times when he has tried to wake me up in the middle of the night due to the activity, I have mumbled very bad things that I would never say. The most scary thing I said was "there will be a murder in a new jacket". This was very disturbing to us since I just bought my husband a new jacket the day prior to me saying this. I feel that it has gained energy somehow from our fear, our bodies and our weaknesses. I am glad to take action by believing in my higher power to protect my family and me. Paul Dale Roberts has given my family hope in the most desperate time of our lives. I'm so grateful for him and his team of paranormal investigators. They have given us the strength to get through this paranormal harassment and move on with our lives in a positive direction. I'm looking forward for all this to be behind us and I hope that our story can help others know they are not alone and there is help out there."

Lead Investigators tonight are: Donna Jackson, Gary Matta and Judy Raderchak.

Donna Jackson is Lead Investigator of Team Desperados. Members: Connie Brenner, Lynn Combs, Noreen Austin.

Gary Matta is Lead Investigator of Team Maverick.

Members: Julie Matta, Jacob Beaver, Angel Kesti, Connie Brister, Hana.

Freelancers: Chris Singleton, Stephanie Belson – Chris is readily available for EVP analysis. Stephanie is able to roam the house to see if she senses any kind of presence.

Judy Raderchak is Lead Investigator of Team Advantage.

Members: Regina Tellez, Michelle Fontana, Robert Fischbach.

Three teams placed into three different sections of the home. 1 team is on the 2nd floor, another team is covering the rooms on the right hand side of the house and the 3rd team is covering the areas on the left hand side of the house.

Equipment being used tonight is: Two laptops, monitor, ghost radar, Ovulace, video cameras, digital audio recorders, digital cameras, EMF readers, K2 readers, temperature gauges. The investigative sessions are for 45 minutes. There will be 3 investigative sessions and an evidence briefing after each investigative session.

Evidence Collected:

With three investigative sessions and one provoking session, it appears we may have received three EVPs. The EVPs will be analyzed further, to make sure it's not voices from another group. One EVP is a man's deep voice saying 'go'. As for anomalies in our photographs and video footage, we have orb activity. None of the orbs showed any signs of 'intelligence'. Orb activity is most likely dust. There were some personal experiences, in which some investigators felt like they were touched, grabbed behind the neck, hair stroked. Personal experiences cannot be validated. One funny note, the Ovulace said 'murder Paul' and two seconds later I walked into the room.

Conclusion:

EVPs were later analyzed and proved to be inconclusive. Personal experiences are exactly that, personal experiences and do not reflect validation of a haunting and the entirety of the investigation. Inconclusive. Orbs, most likely dust. Strange shadows on video footage. I had all the investigators watch the shadows on the TV monitor and everyone was in agreement that it was the movement of other investigators that caused the unusual shadows. Debunked. Strange sounds like growling and the sound of a child laughing. Inconclusive. Cold spots felt during séance. Inconclusive. Psychics feel a lurking hiding presence. Inconclusive. Strange painting on the wall of a face with three eyes and double horns was removed by the stroke of a paint brush by occupant. A bedroom door was padlocked, because of the activity the occupants felt in this room. This room certain investigators had personal experiences. High EMF readings were captured in many parts of the home.

We did not prove that there is a haunting in this home, but I truly BELIEVE the occupants were terrorized by something unknown, something unseen. Their statements are consistent. All of the investigators felt they were genuine, truthful. The occupants are truly a loving couple with sincere motives. You could sense their fear. I do believe they truly witnessed something that terrified them and I hope our cleansings/blessing will be successful. In the name of God, I ask that this family will not ever be tormented again, that they will find peace and harmony and live normal lives again. Amen.

Supernatural Hoofprints in the Basement: Angel's Camp

By Paul Dale Roberts, HPI General Manager

Getting ready for an investigation, it's been a late night from pounding out an earlier story. Where's my hot java? Where is the music to pump me up as I hit the shower. Yes, let me put this on. Sweet Emotions by Aerosmith, that should do the trick. Hear the song here:

April 3, 2010, Saturday: Riding with me to the Angel's Camp home is Ann Dupire and Kamilah Smith. When I picked up Kamilah from her Carmichael home, she showed me a Bigfoot footprint cast impression that her ex-boyfriend captured from one of his Bigfoot investigations. See the picture of the cast in the photo link.

As I arrived to this home, I was going over HPI researchers Laurie Rutledge of the UK and David Mace/former police officer's information that they dug up. The house is over 100 years old, it used to be a Catholic Prayer Home, there is an Indian burial ground nearby, 16 miners died nearby in a mine accident, multicolored orbs have been seen in the home, hoofprints are seen in the basement. There is no explanation on how or why the hoofprints make their appearance. Added Note: Occupant Robin Hilmanofski claims to have seen a Mothman/Batsquatch type of creature with large leathery wings fly near her property, it had a white underbelly, this happened 2 weeks ago.

The short time we were here Kamilah and Gwen witnessed a strange design on the window, that at first looked like a palm print and looking at it later, it looks like the face of the devil. I tried to take a picture of the face and it does not reproduce itself as a photo. Jimmy Peterson/Occupant showed the team some of the anomalies in his own photographs and some looked like human faces, other anomalies were orbs which are always questionable.

HPI Investigators Roll Call: Kamilah Smith/Reiki Master; Sherry Andersen/Professional Photographer;

Gwen Johnson/Reporter; Ann Dupire/Former Police Officer; Mandy Haines/In Training; Bernard Haines/In Training; Kathleen Hunt/In Training; Chris Singleton/Audio Expert; Rory Fitzgerald/In Training; Shirley Hasselbrink/Psychic; Chuck Larson/Video Technician; Randy Annis/Video Technician; En-Vision Investigators: Donna Jackson, Lynn Combs and Connie Brenner.

Occupants: Lindsey Blackledge; Jimmy Peterson; Robin Hilmanofski; Dawn Hartwig, Zeke Renner.

There are 4 sections of the home to investigate. We have 1. Basement; 2. Living Room; 3. Kitchen/Bedroom; 4. Entry Way – Front Yard.

The teams are broken up as such:

En-Vision Team: Donna Jackson/Lead Investigator, Lynn Combs, Connie Brenner.

Team 2: Ann Dupire/Lead Investigator, Bernard Haines, Kamilah Smith, Rory Fitzgerald.

Team Trouble: Shirley Hasselbrink/Lead Investigator, Kathleen Hunt, Lindsey Blackledge, Robin Hilmanofski.

Team Freewheelers: Sherry Andersen/Lead Investigator, Mandy Haines, Dawn Hartwig, Chris Singleton.

There will be four 45 minute investigative sessions with a briefing after each investigation. During the briefing, we will present any evidence that we gathered. Initial briefing was conducted in which the history of the home was presented by me and the occupants, with a question and answer session. Investigative techniques were discussed during the initial briefing.

Equipment Inventory: video cameras, monitors, laptops, K2 Meters, Ghost Radar, Frank Box, digital cameras, 35 mm cameras, digital audio recorders, temperature gauges, GPS (used in my car to get to location). Chris Singleton will actually analyze any EVPs captured this evening on the spot for presentation to the occupants.

FIRST SESSION RESULTS:

Donna's team was in the basement and 4 team members witnessed with their own eyes a moving orb that moved 10 feet. The witnesses described it as a ball of light. Again, I repeat, the 4 witnesses (Donna, Connie, Gwen & Jimmy) saw the ball of light with their own EYES. Here is the doozy, Randy Annis captured the ball of light on video! Pictures with anomalies were orbs, a face and another face of what looks like an American Indian. K2 meters were going off in the basement. The ball of light was 6 inches in diameter and estimated speed claimed by witness, 5 mph.

Shirley's team experienced unusual cold spots in the living room and the K2 meters went off for a period of 2 minutes.

Sherry's team results were zero activity.

Randy Annis and Chuck relate that on one of the video frames, a closet door appears to open and close. This will analyzed further.

Ann's team received some hits on the K2 meter.

SECOND SESSION RESULTS:

Ann's team experienced K2 meters going off. They acquired an EVP that says 'Thomas' and Chris my audio expert cleaned it up and you can distinctly hear the voice say Thomas. Ann cleaned the window with the devil face and in a moment's time a palm print appeared, without the devil face.

Donna's team did not receive any results.

Sherry's team captured major orb activity, which most likely most was dust. Some of the orbs were classic designer orbs and when enhanced possible faces inside the orbs were detected. Further analysis is warranted.

https://s776.photobucket.com/albums/yy45/sherryaphotos/Angels%20Camp%20Apr%202010/

Randy captured orb activity on video. We concluded it was dust.

Shirley's team witnessed K2 meters going off and they summoned the entities to gravitate towards their meditating circle. On the video, it appears that there was orb activity that appeared to gravitate towards them. Further analysis is warranted to determine if the orbs displayed intelligent movement.

THIRD SESSION RESULTS:

Some of the investigators had to leave. I placed Ann Dupire in charge with the rest of the group and she placed them strategically into areas with the most activity. Kamilah had a personal experience, in which she felt hands grabbing her waist, when this happened the K2 meter went off.

FOURTH SESSION RESULTS:

No results.

CLEANSING:

Kamilah is performing the Reiki cleansing with the head of the household Jimmy. The investigators will be required to depart from the house to allow the cleansing to take place.

CONCLUSION:

I would have to say that this home appears to be truly haunted. The compelling evidence is when 4 people witness a ball of light in movement and that ball of light is caught on camera. Was this truly a spiritual containment field? I believe it was, I do not believe the 4 team members conspired to create this story and somehow their story manifests on video. Yep, I would say that is pretty compelling. 2nd compelling evidence is the EVP, in which the entity says 'Thomas', when one of the investigators asked what his name was.

As for the devil face / palm print in the window, this is questionable and I would not deem the face/palm print as paranormal.

As for the hoofprints in the basement, we never saw them.

Special Note: Ann Dupire captured the Thomas EVP.

Special Note: More pictures are coming in, that show anomalies. None of my pictures contain any anomalies.

Burning Down the House! Catlike Demon of Vacaville
By Paul Dale Roberts, Supernatural Sleuth, Ghostly Gumshoe and the Stalker of the Paranormal
www.hpiparanormal.net

Tonight since we will be dealing with a demonic force. All varieties of cleansings will take place. Cleansings: Native American cleansing, Wiccan/Earthly cleansing, metaphysical cleansing and a Catholic Blessing. When a multitude of cleansings take place, it is referred to as: "Burning Down the House". So it would seem appropriate that the theme of this article is: Burning Down the House by Talking Heads, hear the song here:

Saturday, May 8, 2010. Time: 2100 Hours. Location: Vacaville. Case: Demonic. Let me go over my notes. The clients have been experiencing a demonic presence in their home. The entity is all black and walks on all fours. When the entity stands up, it is 7 to 8 feet tall. HPI Researcher Laurie Rutledge of London says to be coy and ask the occupants if the number 3 means anything. When asking the occupant she tells me that everything happens in threes. Three knocks, three chokes (the female occupant has been chocked by this entity) and the entity usually appears at 0333 Hours. The entity may have come into their lives, when their teenage daughter was dating a boy that was practicing the dark arts and messing around with tarot cards. The demon will follow them from their home to a hotel room; it has even been seen in their vehicle. The occupants feel nauseated all the time and will get sick for no reason at all. The couple is a loving couple with children and lately their closeness has diminished. There is even talk of separation. They feel the entity is causing the friction, the negativity in their marriage. The occupants have been so scared; they have been living in motel rooms, until we arrive.

Tonight, we will arrive. We will plan a strategic plan of action. We will discover an avenue of approach on this entity. We will prepare for battle if necessary. Sometimes we are warriors and the warrior mode is set in motion...

For an investigation like this, I need a lot of energy. I am equipped with my Monster M-80 that I will chase down with a Monster Assault.

The occupants gave a briefing of the incidents that have happened in this home. Arianna Wheeler (occupant) in her own words describes the haunting activities in her home. Read below:

"Hello, my name is Arianna Wheeler. My husband Chuck and I live in Vacaville. The first experience happened upstairs in our daughter Rachel's room. Items moved unexplainably around the room and the lights would flicker and her television would turn off at random. Sadly we did not believe her and assumed she was imagining it. She moved out as soon as she could, claiming that the house was haunted. In her sister's room across the hall we found tarot cards and a book on how to use them. We threw them out knowing that they can enable paranormal activity. She recently has moved out as well, claiming the house is too "spooky". In the last two months there has been a lot of activity. I was the first to see a tall and dark figure in the hall way of our bedroom.

It looked like it had animalistic feet, sort of like hooves and something pointy towards the top of its head. I could not make out the face or any details, but I could make out that there were two glossy, black and round eyes like things looking at me as I lay in bed. It was around 3 am and I was all alone except for my 6 month baby in her crib. Prior to seeing it, I felt like I was being choked, it wasn't like physical hands around my neck, but more of a lack of air to my lungs. I jumped up and turned off all the electronics thinking that something might be pulling "energy" from them. I resumed my spot in bed and felt the same sensation of not being able to breath. I thought to myself "no, no, no" and started praying for God to surround me with the light of the Holy Spirit and it stopped. I hid under the covers and became very frightened. We've heard a lot of growling noises and we don't have any animals.

For the third time I couldn't breath and started sweating profusely. I was sweating like I was in a sauna, just dripping of sweat. I pulled out from under the covers and looked towards the entrance to the hallway which is when I saw the black figure. I made myself fall asleep due to being extremely scared. My husband Charles didn't exactly believe me, kind of like how we didn't believe our daughter. Our two year old Kayla was attacked physically twice in the last couple of weeks. First she was shoved and held against the wall in the hallway of our bedroom in the same place I saw it. When we picked her up we found horrifying red marks around her neck. The second time that she was attacked was in the threshold of the hallway; she was in her highchair and started screaming at the top of her lungs.

When we got to her she was holding the back of her neck. When we looked there were three huge scratch marks that looked deep and red. We were scared for her well being and took her to relatives as soon as possible. Next my husband was choked three times in the same place in the bed that I was and he couldn't breathe. Soon we fled the house since we are afraid for our children's well being. The times we had to return to the house my husband has been harassed with random sightings of the entity in different forms. Sometimes it is animalistic, like a cat and other times just a black blur, kind of like what I saw in the beginning. This negative energy has drained us and I believe our fear has given it more power. It now follows us when we leave the house and I feel like I'm going insane. We have found a bag of pictures of us and objects that represent each of our children. In this bag we also found red, green and black candles used for conducting a seance. There was a journal in the room that she wrote, which said: "people will get what they deserve and that justice will be served". It also stated that she doesn't believe in a God who would put people in so much pain. Sadly I feel she has tried to put a "curse" on us, it was her payback since she feels that she deserved more in life. At times when he has tried to wake me up in the middle of the night due to the activity, I have mumbled very bad things that I would never say. The most scary thing I said was "there will be a murder in a new jacket". This was very disturbing to us since I just bought my husband a new jacket the day prior to me saying this. I feel that it has gained energy somehow from our fear, our bodies and our weaknesses. I am glad to take action by believing in my higher power to protect my family and me. Paul Dale Roberts has given my family hope in the most desperate time of our lives. I'm so grateful for him and his team of paranormal investigators. They have given us the strength to get through this paranormal harassment and move on with our lives in a positive direction. I'm looking forward for all this to be behind us and I hope that our story can help others know they are not alone and there is help out there."

Freelancers: Chris Singleton, Stephanie Belson – Chris is readily available for EVP analysis. Stephanie is able to roam the house to see if she senses any kind of presence.

Judy Raderchak is Lead Investigator of Team Advantage.

Members: Regina Tellez, Michelle Fontana, Robert Fischbach.

Three teams placed into three different sections of the home. 1 team is on the 2nd floor, another team is covering the rooms on the right hand side of the house and the 3rd team is covering the areas on the left hand side of the house.

Equipment being used tonight is: Two laptops, monitor, ghost radar, Ovulace, video cameras, digital audio recorders, digital cameras, EMF readers, K2 readers, temperature gauges. The investigative sessions are for 45 minutes. There will be 3 investigative sessions and an evidence briefing after each investigative session.

Evidence Collected:

With three investigative sessions and one provoking session, it appears we may have received three EVPs. The EVPs will be analyzed further, to make sure it's not voices from another group. One EVP is a man's deep voice saying 'go'. As for anomalies in our photographs and video footage, we have orb activity. None of the orbs showed any signs of 'intelligence'. Orb activity is most likely dust. There were some personal experiences, in which some investigators felt like they were touched, grabbed behind the neck, hair stroked. Personal experiences cannot be validated. One funny note, the Ovulace said 'murder Paul' and two seconds later I walked into the room.

Conclusion:

EVPs were later analyzed and proved to be inconclusive. Personal experiences are exactly that, personal experiences and do not reflect validation of a haunting and the entirety of the investigation. Inconclusive. Orbs, most likely dust. Strange shadows on video footage. I had all the investigators watch the shadows on the TV monitor and everyone was in agreement that it was the movement of other investigators that caused the unusual shadows. Debunked. Strange sounds like growling and the sound of a child laughing. Inconclusive. Cold spots felt during séance. Inconclusive. Psychics feel a lurking hiding presence. Inconclusive. Strange painting on the wall of a face with three eyes and double horns was removed by the stroke of a paint brush by occupant. A bedroom door was padlocked, because of the activity the occupants felt in this room. This room certain investigators had personal experiences. High EMF readings were captured in many parts of the home.

We did not prove that there is a haunting in this home, but I truly BELIEVE the occupants were terrorized by something unknown, something unseen. Their statements are consistent. All of the investigators felt they were genuine, truthful. The occupants are truly a loving couple with sincere motives. You could sense their fear. I do believe they truly witnessed something that terrified them and I hope our cleansings/blessing will be successful. In the name of God, I ask that this family will not ever be tormented again, that they will find peace and harmony and live normal lives again. Amen.
